G. A. R. VETERANS.

The Grand Army veterans showed signs of ageing as compared with former years. They were vigorously cheered along the route, hats being removed in many places as they passed by. That the old veterans would soon be summoned by the bugle to join the grander army on the other side of the great divide, and the G. A. R. become a respected and honored relic of the past, was remarked more than once, as the increase of whitened hairs was noticed. The Indian war veterans had not forgetten how to march, and their gray hairs and yet firm step occasioned much complimentary temark. The Sons of Veterans made a good appearance for their first turnout. Had the Spanish war veterans worn their khakis instead of civilian attire, they would have attracted more attention. As it was, they were hardly distinguishable from the Sons of Veterans who were also "plain clothes men."

CADETS MAKE BRAVE SHOWING. The All Hallows cadets and the high school cadets drew out much favorable comment, particularly the High school battalion, whose men appeared in the regulation full dress uniform of the army, with officers wearing white pants and the chimney pot regulation cadet shakes. Both corps of cadets had their own bands which did their commands credit. which did their commands credit. Capt. Webb in the dress uniform of an artillery captain, led the high school cadets as their commanding officer. Salt Lake has every reason to be proud of these cadets.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The fire department, under Chief Vail made the usual praiseworthy showing, with the men dressed as neatly as the regulars and every apparatus brightened and polished. There were thousands of people out to witness the parade, forming double lines along the entire line of march. The absence of cavalry and, artillery was noticed, but there are hopes that by another Decoration day, the artillery feature will be restored, with perhaps a troop of cavalry from For Douglas. At all events, the entire Fifteenth infantry will be available. The weather could not have been more favorable for a parade.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Rev. P. A. Simpkin Delivers a Powerful Patriotic Address.

At 10 o'clock the people began to assemble at the Orpheum, and when the time for commencing the services arrived at 10:30, the large auditorium was completely filled. There were present on the stage Col. Geo. Squires, who presided over the exercises; Department Commander Alfred Kent; Adjutant General R. G. Sleater, marshal of the day; and Past Commanders J. M. Bowman, H. P. Burns, M. M. Kaighn, C. W. A. Schnell, adjutant of James B. McKean post, and Reed, of Maxwell post, fagbearer, and others. Of the Ladies' Relief corps of the McKean post was Mrs. Lillian Duncan and of the Maxwell post, Mrs. Needer, besides other officials and guests.

Col. Squires addressed the veterans for a few moments, congratulating them upon their presence and vigorous manner in which they marched in the parade, and encouraged them to show by their high sense of patriotism and duty the path which it is their pleasure to tread in example to those who shall follow them.

Department Chaplain Corser offered prayer, after which H. S. Ensign led the congregation in singing "America,"

A chorus, of 60 voices from the Bryant school then rendered the song "Just Before the Battle," which was roundly encored. The children responded by singing with spirit "The Star Spangled Ranner."

Mrs. Lacey spoke encouragingly to the old veterans; referred to those terrible days when on the field she helped minister to the wants of those shot down, and with tender pathos spoke of the revered dead, whose graves it was the mission of the

PATRIOTIC ADDRESS.

The speaker of the day, Rev. P. A. Simpkin, was then introduced by Col. Squires. Those who sat under the sound of the reverent gentleman's voice experienced, during the powerful address delivered by him, all the emotions of patriotism, of love for the departed, of honor for those surviving, and of hope for the future of this great nation. The tribute paid by Rev. Simpkin to the sacrifices of the men constituting the Grand Army, the survivors of that mighty conflict that wrought for America that anion without which the immortal Lincoln declared it could never exist, was as a paean of prise over the biers of these brave men who had gone before. His tribute of honor for those who yet survived that terrific struggle, but who in many cases gave limb or suffered through wounds and in postificated through wounds and in postification of the Union—and not for the love of war or for the destruction of their brothers—was soul inspiring. His tribute to the devotion exhibited by the veterans of the Indian wars of Utah, who gave all they had for their homes and the upbuilding of a new commonwealth in the west, and to the heroes of the struggle with Spain, when the Utah batteries gained for themselves and their state the foremost dis-

MOTHER WANTS HER BABY BACK

Mrs. Ethel Burt Hummel Talks to "News" on the Dr. Chandler Case.

"I have nothing to say in regard to the case at this time except that Dr. Chandler certainly did not do the right thing in this matter." Such was the statement of Mrs. Ethel Burt Hummel to a "News" representative this morn ing when seen in regard to the habeas corpus proceedings brought by her in the district court yesterday against Dr. 7-days-old daughter, whom she claims was taken from her soon after its birth at St. Mark's hospital on May II and has been secreted from her ever since. Mrs. Humniel was seen at her home. 771 west Fifth South street, and declared that she would make a statement for publication after the matter comes up in court next Tuesday, but until then she would have little to say. until then she would have little to say. She declared that she would then give her side of the matter and especially in regard to Dr. Chandler's conduct. The electrical workers of Salt Lake, who are out on strike, declared a holiday today and rested from their labors. day today and rested from their labors. This is the only change in the strike situation. That the quietness, however, means that there is no life in the strike, is vigorously denied by the men, who met this morning nearly 100 strong to talk over the situation again. "We are working," said one of them, "but we are working quietly. We know as well as anybody does, that it will not do to cut wires and make trouble, and that perhaps the company would like us to start this kind of trouble in order to get public sympathy against us, but we will not be drawn into that kind of a game. We are waiting for the company to start something, and are prepared as well as it is to play a waiting game."

An incident yesterday afternoon illustrates the newsboy union's attitude towards unorganized labor. An Independent telephone worker drove in a buggy accompanied by a ground man, to a pole south of the Commercial block. The lineman started up, and a newsboy called out to his fellows:

"Hey, kids, pipe de scab."

The "kids" were quick to respond. There was a general gravitation of youngsters in that direction, and within a very few minutes, despite the fact that there are no egg stores near, the gentle missives began to fly. The buggy was struck once, and the lineman was also besmeared, while the crowd constantly increasing in number, followed the buggy back to the exchange. This is the only change in the strike be lodged against him before Carlson gets through.

Some days ago a Miss Hart, from Colorado, reported that her room in a State street hotel had been entered and a quantity of jewelry stolen. Among the missing property was a heavy solid gold "snake" braclet of considerable value. Carlson went to work on the case, and this morning discovered that McCarthy had attempted to pawn the article. He located the man and placed him under arrest. McCarthy had the bracelet concealed about his ciothing. The officer is thoroughly convinced that McCarthy is responsible for a number of burglaries and is now hard at work trying to connect the fellow with them.

MILITARY BALLOON FOUND.

FATE OF OFFICERS UNKNOWN

London, May 30.—A military balloon, piloted by Lieuts, Caulfield and Leake of the Royal Engineers, which was sent up from Aldershot camp, May 28, during the review in honor of Prince Fushimi of Japan, was picked up by a fishing smack this morning in the English channel. The fate of the two officers is not known. A strong wind which was blowing at the time of the ascent, carried the balloon out of view and it was not again seen until sighted by coast guards the same evening near Exmouth, when it was being carried out to sea.

With the sun just warm enough, o be just cold enough, and the roads ust dry enough, 73 boys pedalled over the hills and far away to Lagoon der arrest in that city for complicity in the Daynes robbery. Yesterday afternoon Chief Sheets received a brief letter from Capt. Burbidge in which the latter stated that he would bring back to Salt Lake Ed Phillips. McFarland and a man named Jennings, on the charge of receiving stolen goods. He asked for requisition papers and steps were taken here this morning to get the necessary papers from the governor. They will be mailed immediately to the captain. In addition to the men the captain will bring back with him the 90 watches and diamonds recovered by the Denver officials. Capt, Burbidge will not be alone with the prisoners as Fred Redmond is with him and will assist the officer. this morning. The annual road race s always one of the Decoration day vents, and this morning's contest was o exception.

At 10:15 o'clock this morning the irst men left the tape at Fifth North street, and within an hour the winners were crossing the tape out at Lagoon. The first man to show up was A. Broadbeck, riding easy and with strength to spare. Behind him came Joseph Westman, followed by Fred Sansome, who in turn was followed by M. May. Then they came singly and in bunches, sprinting gamely and wobbling. One or two lively sprints occurred at the finish, but in the main the riders were widely scat tered,
